Zoom

Egypt. Sunken Treasures

Venaria Reale, Scuderie Juvarriane, February 7 – May 31

The Reggia di Venaria, hosts the only Italian stop of the exhibit's international tour in the imposing rooms designed by Juvarra. The exhibition is created by underwater archaeologist Franck Goddio and designed with Robert Wilson's extraordinary installation in which, over 500 archaeological finds are presented from Alexandria, Heracleion and Canopus, ancient cities near the delta of the Nile that sank 6 metres below Mediterranean sea level during the early centuries of the Christian era.

Uncle Vanya

Teatro Carignano, February 2 – 15

The original adaptation of Anton Chekhov's Uncle Vanya by Gabriele Vacis and Federico Perrone is being presented in its national premiere for the occasion of the reopening of the very recently renovated Teatro Carignano. The show is co-produced by Fondazione del Teatro Stabile di Torino and Fondazione Teatro Regionale Alessandrino.

Cronostasi. Tempo filmico e tempo fotografico. Parte II

Film e video d'artista 1986 - 2008

GAM – Galleria Civica d'Arte Moderna e contemporanea, March 7 – May 10

This second and final part of the exhibit continues its investigation of the relationship between cinematic timing and photographic timing, focusing upon the historic period following the years represented in the first section. The artists belong to different generations and have been trained differently, but have dedicated themselves - more or less exclusively - to time-based art forms, crossing photographic culture and the theme of temporal suspension in their paths of research.

L'eredità di Luigi Einaudi

La nascita dell'Italia repubblicana e la costruzione dell'Europa

Archivio di Stato, February 13 – April 26

The exhibition proposes the figure of Luigi Einaudi: a liberal economist, professor at the University of Torino and Bocconi University of Milan, viticulturist in his farm in Dogliani, sophisticated collector of rare books, a journalist of "La Stampa", "Corriere della Sera" and "The Economist", the director of scientific journals as the "Social Reform" and the "Journal of Economic History", Governor of the Bank of Italy from 1945 to 1948, President of the Republic from 1948 to 1955.

Info: www.mostraluigieinaudi.it

Rodolfo Valentino. La seduzione del mito

Museo Nazionale del Cinema, February 26 – May 24

In collaboration with the University of Torino, the Museo Nazionale del Cinema is paying tribute to the Italian-American actor with a look into his private life, cinematic career and the media. The exhibit is an exposition of photographs, posters, publicity articles, movie magazines, gadgets and costumes enhanced by a retrospective, an international convention and a publication of never before seen material enriched with essays and a substantial iconographic array.

Info: www.museocinema.it

Akhenaton – Faraone del Sole

Palazzo Bricherasio, February 27 – June 14

The exhibit retraces Egypt's historic-cultural events between the reigns of Amenofi III and Ramesses II, focusing upon the figure of Akhenaton.

Info: www.palazzobricherasio.it

Thomas Ruff

Castello di Rivoli – Museo d'Arte Contemporanea, March 17 – June 21

The exhibit, organised by neo- director of Documenta 2012 Carolyn Christov-Bakargiev, will be presenting over 80 works by the German artist who lives and works in Düsseldorf and has been creating photographic works since the 1980's: an objective inquiry and reflection of photographic means, the manner in which it is used in society and contemporary visual culture.

CioccolaTò 2009

Piazza Vittorio Veneto, March 6 – 15

CioccolaTò is now in its seventh delicious edition and has returned to the historic salon in Piazza Vittorio Veneto. The cultural and tasting portion of this year's festival rotates around the theme proposed by Clara and Gigi Padovani "the ten days that seduced the gourmands" with expert lessons in collaboration with Torino Slow Food. The Cibo degli Dei (Food of the Gods) is interpreted not only as a relationship between consumer and food, but as a process of chemical, physiological and empathetic relationships as well. In fact, conflicting / overlapping linguistics have always existed between the terms CIOCCOLATO and CIOCCOLATA as masculine and feminine nouns. So now, CioccolaTò has fallen in love with CioccolaTà, splitting himself into a feminine form to exalt the interpretations of female chefs and the "ladies of chocolate", invited to the event for the first time as featured stars. It is no coincidence that the festival falls during International Women's Day (March 8th).

Happening in Torino

Les Contes d'Hoffmann. The impossible loves of a poet

Teatro Regio, until February 8

A new production of Les Contes d'Hoffmann (The Tales of Hoffmann), the unfinished opera by composer Jacques Offenbach with libretto by Jules Barbier based on the novel with the same title by Jules Barbier and Michel Carré, will be performed on the stage of Teatro Regio. A Teatro Regio - Teatro Real de Madrid - Théâtre du Capitole Toulouse- Israeli Opera Tel Aviv co-production.

Info: www.teatroregio.torino.it

Uomini contro. Il Cinema di Francesco Rosi

Museo Nazionale del Cinema, until February 15

The exhibit draws from the director's imposing archives – acquired by the Museo Nazionale del Cinema – and retraces the main stages of his cinematic career.

Info: www.museocinema.it

Cecenia. Una guerra e una pacificazione violenta

Museo Diffuso della Resistenza, until February 22

The exhibit deals with the events of the past 20 years in the small republic of Northern Caucasus. Since then the territory has been overwhelmed by the violence of the battles with which the Russian Army has forcefully imposed to establish order and the appearance of terrorist episodes inspired by the Chechen Autonomist Movement.

Info: www.museodiffusotorino.it

Du Camp Visuel

Mirafiori Galerie – Mirafiori Motor Village, until February 22

The title of the project – sponsored by Comitato Italia 150 – holds a double concept because it includes Du Camp's speculation as well as the theme of the "visual field" as an opportunity for observation, artistic reflection, acknowledgement and experimentation.

Speranze & Dubbi. Arte giovane tra Italia e Libano

Fondazione Merz, until March 1

Torino's Fondazione Merz and Beirut's Italian Cultural Institute present a project by Costantino D'Orazio involving eight Italian and eight Lebanese artists. The exhibition aims at building a bridge between the art scene in Italy and Lebanon, through the works of some contemporary artists that offer views of the world united by the same attitude question. Despite the historical events of the two countries are so different, between Italy and Lebanon, there is a common feeling in all areas of creativity. Together the shows Speranze & Dubbi. Arte giovane tra Libano e Italia, the Fondazione Merz presented the staff Gabriele Basilico, Beirut 1991, collecting about twenty shots from the big photo made in 1991 in Beirut after the civil war that devastated the country.

The World At Night (TWAN)

Mirafiori Motor Village, March 19 - 26

The World At Night (TWAN) is the I.Y.A. project, created by International association Astronomers Without Borders with UNESCO sponsorship. It is dedicated to the International Year of Astronomy: 400 years of the Telescope commemorating the first observations with Galileo Galilei's telescope.

Neither the exhibit's set up nor its content have been presented to the public before. The exhibit is accompanied by multi-media projections, conferences and seminars, side events and various kinds of representations. It will be presented worldwide, with the objective of spreading the powerful message of universal peace. The exhibit will be presented in Torino as a national preview with a spectacular multi-media screening in order to involve the public for several days and nights in an exclusive trailer of the events co-ordinated by the network.

ROSSO+NERO. Futurismo: per un centenario incendiario Echaurren collezionista artista antagonista

MIAAO Museo Internazionale delle Arti Applicate Oggi, until April 5

For the Celebration of the Centennial of Futurism, Torino's exhibit demonstrates its absolute, underestimated, "revolutionary" supremacy, even in a political sense of the term, with a futuristic "exception piémontaise", documented since the 1910's. Most of the texts and documents gathered for the exhibit – some of which hold a priceless historical value and have never been displayed before – come from the one of a kind collection of Pablo Echaurren and of Claudia Salaris.

Info: www.miaao.org

Feste Barocche

Palazzo Madama, Museo Civico d'Arte Antica, March 24 – June 28

A self-portrait of power was expressed with the feasts appearing on the calendar of the Savoy court from the late 16th to the early 18th centuries: theatrical and musical performances, ballets, weddings, births, funerals. The imagination of artists "stages" the city with scenographic materials and costumes, converting it into a kind of monumental court theatre.
