Neil Ellis Ministries and Gems Radio Give Back

Nassau, N.P. – April 21, 2010 – The Sister Sister Breast Cancer Support Group is $10,000 richer today. Bishop Neil Ellis along with partners Deborah Bartlett and Cyprianna McWeeney were on hand for the cheque presentation which were part proceeds of the “Why Did I Get Married Too?” premiere and red carpet affair held at the Atlantis Theatre recently.

Host, Bishop Neil Ellis stated that this particular support group was chosen because of the wonderful work it is doing in the community to assist Breast cancer survivors and their families with spiritual, moral and financial support. “There are so many of our sisters in our community who are dying and in some case dying unnecessarily from breast cancer because of the lack of support and the lack of funds.

Co-partner Ms. Bartlett reiterating the power of partnership said, “I hope that this inspires the country to understand that the first thing God did was to introduce himself as a team.”

Accepting the donation on behalf of the support group, president Mrs. Andrea Sweeting expressed gratitude for the gift that is so desperately needed because so many young women are dying just because of the lack of funding to get proper treatment.

The mission of the Sister Sister support group is to provide supportive care, encouragement, coping skills, resources, strength and hope for women who have or had cancer.
