The Vineyards... and their art!

Loudoun Valley Vineyards

Located in the Waterford cluster, Loudoun Valley Vineyards was originally founded in 1986 by Hubert and Dolores Tucker. In 2008, the twenty acre estate winery was purchased by Bree Ann & Cameron Moore. Inspiring panoramic views of the vineyards gentle slopes set against a backdrop of the Blue Ridge and Catocin Mountains can be enjoyed from the wrap around deck and glass-walled tasting room. The atmosphere is inviting and the wines are notable.

Fabboli Cellars Vineyards

Located in the Potomac cluster, winemaker and wine innovator Doug Fabboli has been focusing on creating quality wines since the early 1980’s. Doug creates a balance between his art and use of the land by using a geothermal climate control system in the winery, treating the soil with all-organic fertilizer, planting trees for soil conservation and implementing a “return and reuse” bottle program.

Breaux Vineyards

Located in the Loudoun Heights cluster, the Breaux Vineyards can be described as a tranquil “Mediterranean-meets-Napa” style estate. Breaux has grown to become one of Virginia’s largest wineries with over 100 acres planted with 18 varietals. It has placed an emphasis on Bordeaux varietals such as Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. Several unique varieties are also grown and made into top flight wines such as Nebbiolo, Syrah, and Viognier.

Please plan on spending at least 4 hours visiting the vineyards including the roundtrip drive from the Westin Reston Heights.
